

Geebung RSL formed a relationship with Next Payments eight months ago when we installed their cash recycler. The install was a smooth process, and Next Payments offered comprehensive training to staff to ensure the transition went smoothly.

The cash recycler has dramatically reduced the time staff spend counting cash, plus duty managers can now focus on customer service, as opposed to monitoring or double-handling cash, which is invaluable.

Since the installation of the cash recycler, there has been a reduction of cash required on premises, which is positive from security perspective, plus a cost saving as cash pick-ups are reduced.

Based on the success of the cash recycler, the quality of hardware and the customer service we received, we signed an ATM Agreement with Next Payments, we are equally as happy with these units, and have no hesitation in recommending Next Payments.
